A thousand dollars for the Carmel Youth Center was voted by the members of the Carmel Business Association at their annual barbecue last week at La Playa Ranch. ## Margaret Lial Dreamed Of A Concert Career But Found It More Fun To Sell Violins Than To Play Them

Margaret Lial, who for twenty years has been one of the strongest musical influences on the Peninsula, likes to refer to herself as a "frustrated musician." Actually, there's nothing frustrated about her—she merely discovered that it was more fun to run a music shop than to prepare for a career as a concert violinist.

It Was So Good Everybody Wants More Y. Follies

Sunset Auditorium burst at its seams Friday night when the town got together with its young people to fill the house to standing room only with laughter and song and funny business. There is probably nothing like shooting off a gun over the heads of a crowd to get it gasping, and the crowd gasped and gulped and generally had the time of its life when the boys and girls of the Youth Center brought off their first Follies with a crashbang success.

The strains of Good Night Ladies had no more than settled into silence and the curtain been rung down than people began to suggest this as an annual event, or even a semi-annual. Seldom in this city has a local performance of any sort been received with so much enthusiasm and the 982 persons who sat or stood throughout a long and riotous program came out and chattered and chattered about it, and are still chattering with laughter in their eyes and full approbation of the rousing good work the youngsters did.

Everyone was so good that it would be impossible here to give just credit to each performer or every act. Dick Weer and Jim Hare, emcees, pitched the acts at the audience creating that fine rapport between stage and house that is the base of success of any

All Invited To Art Association Reception Saturday

The Carmel Art Association will hold its first big party of the year Saturday night at 8:30 in the Gallery, when it will formally receive into its fold the new president, Dr. Remsen Bird, the new curators, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Crouch, the new directors and new members of all categories.

The reception will be open to all friends and patrons of the Art Association and the Gallery, and all such are urged to come and meet the people. Pat Cunningham is overall chairman of the affair and is helped by a whole roster of hardworking assistants.

Fred Godwin To Receive Honorary Fire Chief Badge

Now there'll be three. Only two Carmelites have the signal honor of being honorary chiefs of the Carmel Fire Department, Steve Patterson and Harrison Godwin. But on the evening of July 6 these two gold badge wearers will have to move over to make room for another, Fred Godwin, who served on the city council for ten years, was mayor for four, and is now Prime Promotor for the Carmel Youth Center.

Godwin will receive his badge at a dinner next Thursday evening at the Fire House. He has earned it through many services to the department, among them "providing us with fine fire commissioners," according to one spokesman.

The festivities, which will be stag, and confined to fire department members and the honorary chiefs, are in charge of the social committee headed by Bernard Roberts.

Hatton No. 1 Threatens To Quit District

"Who wants gold plated sewers?" has become a rallying cry for a group of property owners in Hatton Fields No. 1, who are meeting at the High School library Monday night at 8 o'clock to discuss the $418,000 estimated cost of sewerage Hatton Fields and the Mesa.

The meeting, called by E. H. Tickle at the request of C. J. Ryland, Charles Menzies, Major William Landers and other property owners in Hatton Fields No. 1 will explore the possibility of:

R. L. Stevenson Plaque On Display At Carmel Library

Robert Louis Stevenson meets your eye as you open the door of the Harrison Memorial library this week. A large bronze portrait plaque of the beloved Scotch poet and novelist will be on exhibit there until the end of next week, when it will become part of the permanent collection at Stevenson House, Monterey.

Gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holman of Pacific Grove, the bronze is one of four copies of the original now in St. Giles Cathedral, in Stevenson's native Edinburgh. It was done from life in the fall of 1879 by Augustus Saint-Gaudens, famous American sculptor who died in 1907.

Saint-Gaudens and Stevenson met in New York, where the portrait was made in five sittings in the poet's room at the Hotel Albert. Stevenson was ill at the time, and the sculptor has shown him lying in bed reading, a cigarette hanging from his slender fingers.

According to Mrs. Holman, this copy is nearer the original than the original in Edinburgh. This seems confusing, but is due to the fact that in order to comply with the church's notions of propriety Saint-Gaudens removed the cigarette and the bed from the low relief, substituting a pen and a couch.

Portrait was purchased by the Holmans last year from the famous Peabody collection. It will become part of the Stevensoniana at the Monterey house where the poet lived for several months in the fall of 1879 after crossing the continent in an emigrant train.

VOLUNTEER DRIVERS NEEDED

The transportation service of the Carmel Red Cross Chapter is in urgent need of volunteer drivers with cars, especially during this summer, so that this invaluable program can be continued, according to Mrs. James Glaser, Chairman of Transportation service.

Transportation service has been offered to disabled and aged persons who are unable otherwise to get to medical clinics, and also to the Gray Ladies, who work in the wards at the Fort Ord Station Hospital twice a week.

Anyone interested in volunteering a few hours a month to this program is asked to contact Mrs. Glaser (7-3304) or the Red Cross office (7-6921).

Reducing the overall cost of sewerage the area.

A more equitable distribution of cost among individual property owners.

Withdrawing certain areas from the Sanitary District.

"These property owners question the necessity of installing an auxiliary pump. They question the necessity of strengthening the access bridge across the Carmel River," Senator Tickle told The Pine Cone.

"They ask why owners of large lots should be penalized to the tune of $3000 or $4000 for one sewer outlet, while owners of a 40 foot lot get the same outlet for around $300."

Tickle added that the job is probably necessary in some areas and should be done at once, but doubts that it should be done in areas where the need is not immediate, at a time when all costs are at peak.

"I'll go along with the rest on whatever they decide to do, but it seems to me unwise to do the work now in areas where it can be postponed. Projects such as this are better delayed when possible to a time when work is scarce and a payroll is badly needed in a community."

He added that there will be an attorney at the meeting to give information on how certain areas can withdraw from the district if they decide to do so.

Allen Knight, chairman of the Carmel Sanitary District Board, at the regular meeting of Carmel Unincorporated Tuesday reviewed the history of the Hatton Fields and Mesa sewer situation, pointing out that the people of this area, prodded by the county health authority, had come to the sanitary board asking for sewer installation.

"We don't want to force anything down your throats. We're simply trying to give you what you asked for."

Cause of the discussion and of dissatisfaction is the estimated high cost to the property owners. Clyde Kennedy, sanitary district engineer, was asked to explain his estimate which he has pared down from $500,000 to $418,000, this based on below average bids on similar jobs in other localities.

Kennedy said the cost ran high because of the nature of the soil, which is rock and will require blasting, and the contour of the land, which slopes and in many places will necessitate duplication

WIN-HAPPY PINE CONE HOSTS RASMUSSEN & MOODY AT SUNSET FIELD TONIGHT

One of the best softball games of the current season is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the Sunset diamond, when the strong Rasmussen and Moody aggregation tests the new-found strength of the Pine Cone printers. Both teams hold recent wins over the supposedly invincible Don Castros and are anxious to show which holds the upper hand as far as Peninsula softball is concerned. The sporting goods men upset the Dons to hand them their only loss in first half play, while the printers turned the trick last Monday night in second half play. The keen rivalry which exists between the Coners and the R-M nine should produce plenty of spirited action at the local softball emporium tonight. Ky Miyamoto, whose big bat won the Don Castro tilt, will probably toe the slab for the Pine Cone, with Manuel Campos or Fred Zinani the choice for the sports. Zinani and Miyamoto have hooked up in many a stirring hurling duel in the past years. While Miyamoto relies on an assortment of curves to baffle batters, Zinani frightens the batter with his weird windup and then throws the fast one by him.

In a 6:45 preliminary fracas, the freshly organized Carmel Girls team will swing into action against the Kip's Market juniors. The juniors will throw and bat in an unorthodox manner which should be quite confusing to Bonnie's Beauties.

PINE CONE UPSETS CASTROVILLE DONS, 2 TO 1

A highly professional softball game was dished up for Carmel fans last Monday night as the fast-improving Pine Cone nine dimmed the luster of the classy Don Castros, 2 to 1. Before a capacity crowd, these two old rivals went after each other with everything they had in an effort to gain the upper hand in second half play. It eventually took the Old Master, Ky Miyamoto, to settle the difference between the two teams. Ky was relegated to bench duty for the first part of the game, but took charge when the chips were down in the seventh frame. With the score tied, one apiece, and Pine Cone runners on first and second, Mr. Softball tied into one of Bob Smick's best pitches and drove a scorching single through right field to provide the winning marker for the printers. Joe Nicholson, on second via the walk route, scored the vital run which did much to tighten up the Bay League.

Rich Oyama, pint-sized Pine Cone hurler, matched Bob Smick pitch for pitch throughout the seven-inning contest, allowing only three hits and striking out eleven. Smick allowed the Pine Cone two hits and struck out fourteen swingers.

KIP'S JUNIORS OFF TO FAST START IN KIDS LEAGUE

The Jack Giles-mentored Kip's Junior softball team got over a big hurdle last Tuesday night as they measured the favored New Monterey Boys Club, 11 to 6, to open the 1950 Junior Softball League. Things looked mighty dark for the locals as New Monterey took a 5-0 lead in the third inning and stayed in front until the fatal seventh. Kip's (Last year's Boys Club team) pecked away at the New Monterey lead until they had whittled it away to one run going into the first of the seventh. In the seventh frame, the sky fell in on the visitors from New Monterey. Four solid base hits and a few walks chased across 7 big runs for the local kids and they held steady in the last half of the inning to earn their 11-6 victory.

Johnny DeAmaral played fireman for Red Wolverton in the third inning and allowed one marker in his five-inning stint. The visitors collected 8 hits off the deliveries of Wolverton and DeAmaral, the big blow being Lawrence Segovia's four-master in the second inning. Bob Updike, 1949 batting champ, took up where he left off last year as he clubbed out a steady 3 for 4. Lee Laugenour and Niels Reimers also found pitcher Cardoza for three clean bingles.

In Tuesday's second tilt, the Don Castro Junior nine had too much savvy for the Dufur-led Boys Club aggregation and wound up on the long end of an 11-7 score. The little Carmel kids put up a valiant bid but lacked the power to cope with the classy lads from the artichoke country. With a few more games under their belt, Dufur's lads will make some of the junior teams hustle for the long end of the score. Tommy Brosnan hurled for the Boys Club and let the heavy-hitting Dons down with only 4 blows, but fielding miscues at critical times proved tough to overcome. Bronsnan and Wolverton were the only Carmel hitters to connect for safe blows.

BLOOD ROUND UP

Blood pints collected at the Red Cross Motor Unit visit from San Jose last week tallied 58. Still falling somewhat short of local requirements it was nevertheless a sizable donation and will serve the more pressing emergency demands.

Margaret Lial Dreamed Of A Concert Career

with such doleful instruments of the times as C melody saxophones, mandolins, and banjo ukes, the new electronic instruments were making a timid appearance. She was one of the first to feature the Hammond organ and the Orgatron in recitals designed to demonstrate that they would not electrocute you, but would actually produce music.

In 1934 Kay married and withdrew from the shop. That year Margaret moved her stock to the little Pine Inn shop on Ocean Avenue. With a little more room and a little more money at her disposal, she could give freer rein to her tastes in decor, and some of us today still remember how even Carmel was taken aback at a few of her ideas.

"The color scheme was really inspired by Jean Varda," she recalls. Margaret had found an old wax store dummy one day in Monterey after an old department store had gone out of business. She took it to her friend the Greek painter, who was an authority on having fun with things other people had thrown away.

"Varda was lost in admiration. 'Look at those eyes! Look at that skin!' he cried. 'She is a ballet dancer, and her name is Phoebe! She must become a window display for your shop.'

"Varda and his wife and I worked from midnight until dawn. I had found a few wax hands, once used to display gloves, in the same rubble heap, and with Phoebe, the spare hands, and some other stuff we had around we set window display ahead twenty years.

"When we left the shop at dawn, tired and weak from laughter, we turned to look at our work. In one window Phoebe rose like a phoenix from a bed of broken records, pirouetting on one toe, and brandishing a record in one hand. She was dressed in oriental splendor. In the other window the wax hands reached out from behind a velvet curtain, each one glittering with jewels. The effect was eerie and wonderful.

"When I arrived at the shop in the morning my clerk met me at the door," Margaret remembers with a chuckle. "There was a steely look in her eye.

"Is this going to stay here?", she asked, pointing at the window. "Sure. Why?"

"She looked at the window, then at me. There was silence for a moment. I saw tears in her eyes. 'But Miss Lial! What will I wear?'"

In 1933 Margaret opened a branch store in Monterey, in an old building on Alvarado street. There was an old hall over the shop, and here two years later she began the series of concerts, lectures, and art exhibits that made her famous as a friend to local artists and touring celebrities.

Among musicians who appeared during the three years the hall was in use were Sascha Jacobinoff, Isaac Stern, Antonia Brico, and John Cage, as well as many local undiscovered talents. Photographer Edward Weston showed his first landscapes that first year at the Monterey store, and his show was followed by exhibits by Henrietta Shore, James Fitzgerald, Armin Hansen, Richard Lofton, Chiura Obata, and Alexander Corazzo. In 1934 she presented a show for the newly-formed Art Students' League.

During the war Margaret closed her Carmel shop, and it was not until 1945 that she took over the former cellar taproom at Ocean and Monte Verde. Its narrow stairwell and copper-hooded fireplace were just what she was looking for, and with the help of gay wallpaper, paint, and a lot of imagination she made it a quiet and pleasant spot for browsing record collectors.

For ten years she has owned a cabin in Coastlands, Big Sur, where she could retire for week ends and vacations. Recently she enlarged the coast retreat into an all-year house. Now she lives there with two collies and a Packard convertible when she isn't bouncing in and out of her two stores.

She still loves violins—she owns five, in fact—but she seldom plays. Her hand, completely healed, turns more eagerly to business than to Czerny.

Margaret's animated face will be seen more often on Carmel streets from now on. For the past six months, under doctor's orders, she has taken a complete rest. But she's back, filled with new enthusiasm. Her absence has prompted a few of her friends to think that she had retired.

"Retired? Me? Don't be silly.

Barbara Norberg To Play The Lead In Molnar's Swan

Cast for the Wharf Players' next production, Molnar's The Swan, was announced this week by Director Dan Tothoroh.

Barbara Norberg, who plays the lead, will be supported by Hildreth Hare, Elizabeth Goudge, Dee Olivetti, Said Riza, Fred Stevens, David Eldridge, Victor Brune, Bill Fort, Irene Marquis, Allen Knight, Jr., and Warren Masten.

Bill Kappy will do the sets and Kenn Smith is the producer.

The Swan is a romantic comedy laid in a mythical kingdom in central Europe at the turn of the century. The plot revolves about the aspirations of a Royal Princess to have her daughter married to an heir apparent so that the family will again have attained a throne which was lost to them in years gone by. Complications develop from the interest of the tutor who is secretly in love with Alexandra, the princess. It becomes more involved as the story progresses and the entire plan of the scheming mother is nearly wrecked until all the strings are gathered together and untangled by Father Hyacinth, the Princess' uncle who has been sent for to help in the dilemma.

Have you seen what I've done to the Carmel shop? Remodeled, redecorated. Bringing musical instruments in next week. And you know that rear room? Well, I'm going to move that wall . . .

Mabel Hamilton

Mrs. Mabel Hamilton, for 25 years a Carmel resident, died Tuesday morning at her home at Seventh and Junipero streets, after a long illness. She was 78 years of age.

She was the widow of the late William H. Hamilton, who died here last August. Both were active in affairs of the Church of the Wayfarer, and Mrs. Hamilton was for several years a member of the Carmel Woman's Club.

Born in Lenawee County, Michigan, she moved as a child to Adrian, Michigan where she spent the early years of her life. At one

In 1925 she came to Carmel, where she married Mr. Hamilton, a childhood friend. In 1938, Her husband spent most of his life in Battle Creek, Michigan, where he worked as a builder and architect prior to his retirement here.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Alexander Sherriffs of San Francisco, and Miss Marion Turner of Carmel; a brother, Edwin L. Baker, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Elwyn Fisher, both of Adrian; and two grandchildren, one great-grandchild, and three step-great-grandchildren.

Services were held yesterday afternoon at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea crematorium, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray and the Reverend Charles Burrill officiating. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

AUXILIARY MEETING

Because of holiday conflict Thursday instead of the customary Tuesday will be next week's meeting date for the Church of the Wayfarer's Circle Two of the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Leo F. Miller will be hostess for the dessert meeting, which will take place at 12:30, in Mrs. Miller's home on Monte Verde near Seventh Avenue. Circle leader, Mrs. Charles H. Burrill, announces that all interested are invited to attend, for sewing and fellowship.

Elmer E. Meyers

Commander Elmer E. Meyers (USN, ret.), for the past two years manager of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, died Tuesday evening at Oak Knoll Hospital, Oakland, after a brief illness.

A native of Sweden, Commander Meyers was born April 1, 1899 and came to the United States as a child. A graduate of Annapolis, class of 1922, he served with the U. S. Navy until his retirement in 1946, when he and his wife, Bobbie, took up residence in Pebble Beach. He was an active member of the executive committee of the local Retired Officers' Group.

In addition to his wife, he leaves his father, Charles E. Meyers, and a brother, William Meyers, both of Anaconda, Montana; and a sister, Miss Helen Meyers of Berkeley.

Services will be held at 4:00 p.m. today at the Berkeley Hills Chapel, 1602 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley. Burial will be in Arlington Cemetery, Virginia.

LIONS CLUB MEETING

High light of this week's Lions Club meeting was formal installation of recently elected officers. Those who assumed their new positions at Tuesday's gathering were: Ted Fehring, president; Oscar Balzer, first vice president; Arthur Wise, second vice president; Michael Balazs, secretary treasurer; Colonel Roy Hillyer, assistant secretary treasurer; Floyd Smith, Lion Tamer, and Louis Poulos, tail twister. Chosen to serve on the new board of directors are: Vincent Torres, Joe Hudder, Lyle Cooper and Muriel Ogden.

During the ceremony outgoing president, Dr. William Coughlin was presented with a fine collection of new golf clubs.

Program chairman was Robert Weaver, who introduced a charming dancing trio to supply the evening's entertainment. Peggy Weaver, Sidney Tice and Susan Nutter were the talented performers.

The Lions pre-Fourth of July picnic committee now officially includes Vincent Torres, Fred Stanley, Arthur Wise, Waldo Hicks and Floyd Smith. The picnic, which is to be held in Waldo Hicks' summer home in the Cachagua, will take place this Sunday from 10 o'clock onward, with gate closing time now fixed at 2:30. The barbecue itself is scheduled to commence at 4:00 p.m. with chefs as yet undisclosed presiding at the pits.

OPEN STUDIO AT SEIDENECK'S

On first Sundays of the forthcoming summer and early fall months three local artists, Alexander Weygers and George and Katherine Seideneck, will hold wide open house in their Valley homes. All their friends and interested members of the public will be warmly welcomed between 2:00 o'clock and 5.

First Theatre Melo Scheduled For Two Extra Performances

The Unkissed Bride will play four nights this week end, instead of its regular two, at California's First Theatre, Monterey, the advance orders for the Fourth of July week end indicating that it will take the two additional shows to house the audiences. The Bride will play Saturday night, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday night, July 1, 2, 3, 4.

Directed by Rhea Diveley, the hilarious First Theatre show has been "packing them in" since its opening in late May. Jeanne Semple as the hopelessly dumb maid, Lily, draws laughter with every line she speaks. Mary Cleary, Mary Johnson, Alex Olivetti, Jim Rutledge, Willie Holman, Bert Sharpe, Jean Allred, Lee Jordan complete the cast. In the olio but not in the play, are Faith Ellis, Pamela Beales, Joseph De Vos and James Vincent.

Mary Johnson, well known Carmelite, has been doing a brilliant bit of pinch-hitting the last three week ends. In the absence of Jean Stone, originally cast as Aunt Mathilda, Mary Johnson stepped in, and without rehearsal and no slip in lines, carried off the role with superb assurance. She will turn the part back to Jean Stone this week end.

ANOTHER STRIKE

AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE SERVED BY FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS

President Truman's EMERGENCY BOARD recommends a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day for switchmen represented by the Switchmen's Union of North America.

• Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in their expenses involved, the Railroads' answer to Board is...

Union leaders' answer to Board is..

YES!
NO!

In face of Board findings to the contrary, union leaders insist on 48 hours pay for 40 hours work. This would be an average increase of 31 cents an hour, or $2.48 a day. So Union leaders have called a completely unjustified strike on 5 Western railroads, effective June 25.

On June 15, an Emergency Board appointed by President Truman under the terms of the Railway Labor Act recommended the railroads grant switchmen a 40-hour week and a wage increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day.

Despite the added financial burden involved, the railroads are ready to accept these recommendations, as they have always accepted Emergency Board recommendations on national issues.

But the leaders of the Switchmen's Union refuse to accept! They demand an average increase of 31 CENTS AN HOUR OR $2.48 A DAY—although their present earnings are substantially higher than those of workers in other industries!

Board Says Demands Unjustified

In its report, the Board declared this demand unjustified by all the evidence presented. It also pointed out that it would give the switchmen an unfair pay advantage over other groups of railroad employees, and would add too great a burden to railroad costs.

Here is another case of a railroad union flouting the findings of an Emergency Board—another case of calling a crippling strike in an outrageous and reckless attempt to force demands which the Board clearly labels as unjustified!

Leaders of the Switchmen's Union are calling this strike in defiance of the Board—in defiance of the facts—and at the expense of the public!

In its report on this case, the Board made this statement:

"The railroad industry, the Board believes, needs above all else a period of relative stability to adjust and adapt itself to present competitive post-war conditions."

Despite this warning, the leaders of the Switchmen's Union are upsetting the apple-cart—forcing a completely unjustified strike against everybody who uses the railroads.

FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS AFFECTED BY THE JUNE 25 STRIKE

The five railroads affected by this strike, which goes into effect at 6:00 A.M. local time, Sunday, June 25, 1950, are:

Chicago Great Western Railway Company
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company
The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad Company
Great Northern Railway Company
The Western Pacific Railroad Company

It is time to put an end to such un-American tactics!

The Answer to a Raw Attempt At Dictatorship is "No!"

In the interest of the public who depend on the railroads every day, there can be only one answer to this outrageous and dictatorial action by the leaders of the Switchmen's Union. And that answer is—"NO!"

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

The Gods Are Afoot

BY LYNDA SARGENT

The long shadows of history fall across the earth. Cunning as an old coyote, they lope in the wake of the present suns, going forward and backward at the same time. From them the shape of things may be dimly deduced, but only dimly. And perhaps the longest and most dark-some of them all is the phantom of what is called the freedom of man. For if it were possible to put into his own words every man's thoughts of freedom, each would be but a shade of the reality, limning its vaguest outlines, without substance and devoid of life.

Only art is free. By indirection, so only, among men, is the artist uncoerced. And among these, only the great artist, the genius. No popular definition of genius has ever defined it. No one knows. Any good carpenter has an infinite capacity for taking pains. Every successful farmer creates out of the earth with inspiration and sweat. And no matter how noisily the psychologists proclaim that the doers of great deeds are the victims of the sourness of their mothers' milk or the hatred of their fathers, this too is fallow thinking. "Of every tree thou mayest freely eat but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil."

We are speaking here of Johann Sebastian Bach, who, in spite of knowledge of good and evil, framed for all time some of the most profoundly perfect works of genius ever known. Here in Carmel, next month, we celebrate the bi-centennial of his death. And in so doing, we honor the reality of human freedom.

Most of us are acquainted with at least the outlines of Bach's life. His youth was lived in extreme poverty, poverty so punishing to most men it would have been evil indeed, so grave that he must ruin all his life the precious sight of his eyes by reading musical scores by moonlight for the scarcity of candles. On foot he travelled more than two hundred miles in his boyhood to hear the great organist, Buxtehude, play. In the midst of a devastated country, of the momentary death of the arts, of the depredations and wickednesses that follow in the wake of all wars, he lived and worked in comparative obscurity. Grief and torment were his. On returning home from performing at the behest of a courtier, he discovered that his wife had died and been buried in his absence. And although his life with Magdalena Bach, his second wife, was one long span of domestic felicity, it was punctuated liberally with young mouths to feed, until his house was overrun with twenty-one children. Oftener than not he wrote to order, working within the — to most men — unendurable limitations of a little church, a little community, against the personal enmities of the petty minds of men who were above him in place, daily and blindly and without thought of recognition building a fugue or a pasacaglia to suit the need of the moment. A handful of boys' voices to chant a funeral dirge; the thin reeds of inadequate instruments to utter the unutterable; the long toil at the pedals of his organ at night, when at last Magdalena would come timidly to bid him rest. He died of a stroke in his seventy-fifth year, the scores of some of his mightiest works having been used to wrap a newly planted bush in the garden of a prince, dictating almost with his dying breath one of the most beautiful of his chorales, When we are in Greatest Need. He was buried in an unknown grave, a devout and simple man, having asked nothing of life but to work hard, to do as well as he knew, to worship his God with the voice that was given him.

His times were not unlike our times. Fierce and ravaging wars had laid his country to waste and broken the Holy Roman Empire into disparate parcels of desolate and dissolute peoples. Prussia was on the move, the threatening barbarians of his day. The terrible wars that were to affect the amalgam of the German Empire were

THAT TIME SURVIVED: POINT LOBOS, 1950

*A meadow of wild grass, heather and sage
Lies here amid the promontory hills
Out of the view of either white-rimmed bay
Whose indentation marks the coastal sills.
Water that lay below the winds' upheaval
Moves through the turbulence of reef and spray
To calm again, clouding above the cypress.
This scene is fixed within the tranquil day*

*And is held firm without my mind, while I Remember a high plain, barren of trees,
A granite sanded butte immersed in sage,
A pitted hill of copper, manganese,
Silver and quartz, of porphyry and gold,
A gutted hill that poured a copper creek
Steamed into the thin, supernal air
Bearing as dross what later men will seek.*

*It is as if this time were that again,
Found in the scent of sage so perfectly
It is held whole within the mind this once
United to myself, and left free;
For memory that carried too much pain
For men destroyed by garth, then buried there,
Would not appear nor yet be exorcised
But altered sense, as ghosts have altered air;*

*And as the face, obscure and incomplete,
Which love, deprived, creates when it must change,
That time survived, unknown, in other times
And was perceived in innocence as strange.
Till other change, willed or induced by age,
Delivered feeling of servility,
Revealed and yet assuaged the pain of loss,
Letting the lost appear as it must be.*

—HELEN PINKERTON.

EPITAPH

*Here lies in all its faded blue the jacket-shirt of old Tu Shu, a gardener of bygone days,
who left it wind-swayed with the rose blooming its color on a final tree, and went to death mid fallen rakes and hoes.*

—CHARLES R. PADDOCK.

LITTLE TULIP

*"Little Tulip," I said,
(rather bashfully at first)
"haven't you strayed quite far from home?"*

*She skipped and danced and played with the wind, and said—
laughing with the sun—
"We all have."*

—DAVID PALMER.

brewing. Neighbor feuded with neighbor under the vassalage of religious division and political ambition. Art was suffering the diminution of transition. An age was in its death throes and another was coming to birth.

What then of freedom? Did the Kapellmeister ask for an ivory tower? Did he cast his children out the window, or erect a place where their voices might not be heard? Did he allow the greedy and the selfish all about him to obstruct his view of the organ stops? Did he proclaim to every passerby: I cannot work for all about me is confusion, destruction, the cold war? Did he stop when his inventions were reviled and his scores used for kindling wood? Did he pause to take thought of the low estate of warriors and kings? What wreak of poverty or shame chastened one note into silence? What, of all suffering and despair, but did less than open a further infinity to the plenary franchise that was Johann Sebastian Bach?

When the doors of Sunset Auditorium open on the Bach Festival on the evening of the third Sunday in July, we shall be privileged to hear the glorious music of the B Minor Mass. For the thirteen years the Carmel festival has been in the making, through struggle and discouragement and sometimes the despair of "that little giant," Gastone Usigli, a miracle has been wrought. This has been made possible by the hard work, the dedication, the passionate disciplined liberty of the men and women of Carmel. In the tradition of this event, people from all stations of life weld themselves together, melody and harmony and counterpoint, into one voice, the voice of man's inner realization of something far out and beyond the scope of the chicanery of the politician, the hatred of another man's ideology. The voice of the candor of the untrammelled God.

And in this country where there are geographical limits, all men are free. Here the enfranchisement of the human spirit transcends all allotments of space, all compass of time. Here, while the chorus mounts in orison, two centuries are nothing and cast no shadow on the heart. Here, listening with the diligence of our own peculiar genius, each may enter the radiant earthshine, each speak in his understanding with that cleaner and more subtle voice, "that out of three notes he frame, not a fourth note, but a star."

I have said only genius is free. Yet in the core of every man, staggering blind through a world which he cannot understand, shines the forever unimpaired immunity of himself. This he may put to any use, to the service of doing, the service of listening. Even Bach began by listening. It is never too late to listen, never too late to begin. Fold up your newspaper, turn off your radio. The gods are afoot.

And when you stand under the beards of the fogs that hang from the Monterey pines at Sunset School, and the first plaintive sweet notes of a Bach chorale sing out upon the air, the phantom of man's liberty will have become palpable substance, the substance of the sublimity that is in us and never dies, giving to each listener manumission from the sin of his enslavement.

S. F. Opera Program Announced

The program to be presented in its 28th annual season was announced this week by the San Francisco Opera Company.

Opening September 26 with Verdi's Aida, the five-week season will conclude October 29 with the company's first production of Wagner's Parsifal.

Other works to be heard include revivals of Marriage of Figaro, Magic Flute, Manon Lescaut, La Boheme, Lucia di Lammermoor, and Madame Butterfly.

On October 14 a performance of Tristan will be presented at Sacramento and The Marriage of Figaro is scheduled for Fresno, October 30.

The Time Has Come...

By Kippy Stuart

Lets talk about bugs; little bugs and big bugs. Unless a gardener is able to diagnose plant ills, he won't have much luck eradicating these ills. Have you any idea the number and the variety of unwanted insects that abound in the average garden? Well, hold your hat; here we go; aphids, caterpillar, Fuller Rose beetle larvae, Rose snout beetle, flea beetle, earwigs, ants, grasshoppers, mole cricket, thrip, red spider, wireworms, root-weevil (I've got to catch my breath here before I go on).

So, here are a few more miserable creatures that feast upon our gardens; brachyrhinus, sod worm, chinch bug, white grubs, loopers, armyworm, leaf miners, lace bugs, leaf-rollers, white fly, and believe it or not, some that I have not listed.

The reason for this boring expose of the bug world today, is to bring the amazing news, that science has produced one spray (or powder), that will finish every one of these insects. When D.D.T. struck the garden world, we all gratefully received the chemical, but it wasn't long before we were advised to discontinue the use of D.D.T. because D.D.T. was killing off insects that are welcome in the garden.

The new chemical that is advertised as being able to eradicate all those insects just named, is Isotox-lindane. If anyone had predicted a few years ago, that an insecticide would be introduced to the home gardener with all of these wonder-qualities he would be derided by professionals. But it is a fact today that Isotox-lindane will do the trick; science says so, and who are we to dispute with science? Another excellent quality of this new chemical is that the residue of either spray or powder continues to hold its killing properties for as long as twelve days, an unheard of possibility.

To check up another virtue of Isotox-lindane, it is not dangerous to use. No familiar skull and cross-bones appears on the label, and it has been stated by various entomologists and toxicologists, that Isotox-lindane is perfectly safe to use. If you remember back a few years, when D.D.T. came on the market, there were all sorts of taboos and we were warned of its danger to children and animals. To me, the most remarkable thing about Isotox-lindane is that it eliminates the old fashioned diagnosis. One does not have to be a scholar and a wise-acre to cure garden ills. Just pop on some Isotox-lindane, either in your dusting gun, or your spray, and go your way in peace. Let science take care of your garden.

How I wish one of these high-brow scientists would invent some gadget to cut the lawn without man-power, or to turn over the compost pile without man-power! Well, anyhow, "everybody" knows more than somebody else. Maybe they will.

Mrs. Eagan In Free Piano Concert At Sunset Tonight

The Pacific Grove Summer School of Music presents Edith Eagan in a piano recital at Sunset Auditorium tonight at 8:15. The public is invited, and there is no admission charge.

Wife of Thomas Eagan, who is a member of the summer school music staff as clarinet instructor and conductor of the orchestra, Mrs. Eagan is a student of Thomas Ryan of San Jose State College, has participated in college musical events, among them symphony concerts in which she was piano soloist with the orchestra. A versatile musician, she also plays oboe and English horn in the San Jose Civic Orchestra.

Her program for tonight:

Sonata in E Major, Sonata in D Major, Scarlatti; Sonata Opus III, Beethoven. Maestoso—Allegro con brio ed Appassionata, Arietta.

Largo from Sonata in B Minor, Chopin; Scherzo in E Major, Chopin.

Three Fantastic Dances, Shostakovich; Eight Miniatures, Turina; El Vito, Infante.

WOODARD, the man with a fashionable flair for your hair is still bursting with delightful new ideas in styling. We have a hard time keeping abreast of this whiz, and naturally you want your hair short for the summer weather and the new styles too! And it's so flattering to milady. Most important, the hair must be off the neck, due to the new high necklines of summer fashions. WOODARD'S not only have these new trends for our community, but they're styled to become you and only you. And you ought to see the oil permanents, specialty of the shop for dry hair. WOODARD'S is located for your convenience in the San Carlos Hotel, mezzanine floor, in Monterey. For those of you who live out of town or in the valley, it's worth a trip. Telephone is 2-3996.

Another summer clearance is taking place in Monterey this week at the COLLEGIATE SHOP and this time everything goes! Dresses in cotton, nylon, rayon, crepe and many others are all greatly reduced, suits in all styles, summer coats, and sportswear of all types. So stop in this week at the COLLEGIATE SHOP on Alvarado in Monterey.

Hey, gang, here's something worth your while! HOLMAN'S TOY DEPARTMENT have Sparklers for your Fourth of July pleasure. They're absolutely harmless and will burn for five minutes at least. They come in all sizes. Some are two for 15c, some 15c each, and the largest are 20c each.

Do you like your Capons large or small? Well you can have 'em either way and fat, juicy and delicious, too at MAC'S POULTRY SHOP. You'll also find a large supply of tender small turkeys just right for frying; roasting chickens, frying chicks, broilers, each one tastier than the last. And—guess what—MAC'S also have chicken in pieces (Backs, necks, and wings for 35c a pound). So drop in and see them soon or just call 7-6553 and put your order in.

HOLMAN'S BOOK DEN has three sensational new books for sale this week. The first of these is World Enough and Time by Robert Penn Warren of All King's Men fame for which he won the Pulitzer Prize. His new book has for it's background Kentucky in the first quarter of the last century and is the compelling story of a man who falls in love with a woman he has never seen. We guarantee you won't be able to put this down once you start to read it. Footsteps on the Stairs by Myron Brinig is the story of two dominating families of the rough and ready days in Montana. One of the families portrayed in this saga is Jewish and the other Irish.

Catholic. Through three generations they spread to New York and Los Angeles in a lifetime of knowledge and affection, humor, and wit.

The Modern Science of Thought is the category into which falls the last of these books: Dianetics is the title brought together by L. Ron Hubbard and is aimed to help the reader to avoid psychosomatic illness, achieve one-third more efficiency than before. It is a clearly presented method of psychotherapy and self-improvement.

Here's a valuable tip, people. HARRIET DUNCAN is having a terrific sale of summer wear, yes, that summer clearance is on and there are some things that have been marked down to a dollar, if you can imagine it. Bedal-pushers, shorts, halters are just a few of the many items cut down. Broken sizes prevail, and extra large and extra small, too. Bathing suits are half price, so now's the time to move right in before they're all gone.

You'll find some very seasonal literature this week at THE VILLAGE BOOK SHOP—just what the doctor ordered to putter around with on your vacation or in your spare time. A beautifully illustrated number is the Sunset Barbecue Book—with instructions on how to build your barbecue pit and then how to use it! Another very worthwhile edition is Landscape For Living by Garrett Eckbo and Your California Garden and Mine by Sydney B. Mitchell. Another practical selection would be Outdoor Chef by Paul Handel, all about firemaking, building fireplaces, recipes when you've finally achieved your project, and many other invaluable suggestions. Arts and Crafts are another the biggest summer of fun and activity in the short history of the summer programs. In addition to the usual playground and game room activities, this year's program is enhanced by an organized arts and crafts course, group and individual instruction in golf, photography appreciation, and an expanded tennis program. To ease the transportation strain for the parents who are sometimes handicapped in getting the kids to the high school for morning swim classes, the school bus makes a run through the village to pick up swim participants. (Bus route is printed in this issue of Pine Cone). Monday night basketball sessions at the high school gym are designed to provide high school and college students an opportunity to keep in good physical trim and indulge in some organized play in their favorite sport. There is something for everyone to do in the summer program... if you do not have a program of activities, pick up one at the Sunset or High School office.

HILDEBRANDS' PUPPET SHOW AND STORY HOUR

Lucky Carmel kids in the 4-10 age group will again thrill to the antics of the Hildebrand sisters and their clever puppet show which takes place at the Sunset Cafeteria on Tuesday morning from 10 to 11:30. The bug-eyed wonderment of the puppet show audience is a revelation for visiting mothers and fathers who are welcome to come and see how the hero and heroine are doing.

Group participation in the happy Song and Story Hour of Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand on Wednesday morning from 10 to 11:30 provides valuable social training for the 4-10 age group. Songs, stories, and blackboard games keep the youngsters amused more than an hour of get-acquainted fun.

ARTS AND CRAFTS BY AN EXPERT

Mrs. Helen Ebert, popular Sunset School instructor, keeps the youngsters busy from 2 to 4 on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoons when her Arts and Crafts course is in session at the Sunset Cafeteria. If some new gadgets are turning up around the house, you'll know they were manufactured in Mrs. Ebert's crafty classes.

FREE BUS RIDE TO MORNING SWIM CLASSES

A free bus ride to and from the high school pool is a popular innovation in this year's summer program. The school bus has been making two trips each morning in order to get all the aquatic candidates to the pool. Leaving the high school at 9 o'clock, the bus route covers the Mesa (Atherton Avenue), past the Mission and down Santa Lucia to Camino Real, down Camino to 9th street, up 9th to Sunset School, up San Carlos to the statue, down Guadalupe to 2nd, and along Carpenter to high school. Children are returned along the same route, leaving the pool at 12:15.

RED CROSS JUNIOR AND SENIOR LIFE SAVING CLASSES ORGANIZED

Both the junior and senior life saving certificates are available to swimmers in this summer's program. Juniors may win their awards in the morning classes while the senior class is held from 5 to 6 on Wednesday and Friday. Rod Dewar is in charge of both classes and welcomes all future life savers. Junior life saving ages are from 12 to 16, and the seniors must have reached their sixteenth birthday.

MEXICAN PLAN

Local writer Townsend Miller, who usually winters, or part-winters, in Mexico, this year reverses his seasonal schedule. On Tuesday of this week Mr. Miller turns his car San Diego-ward, and from thence will en-plane for a few weeks tryout of Mexican summering.

Carol Bedau Married

At a quiet ceremony attended by family and close friends, Carol Bedau became the bride of F. Daniel Bell last Sunday in the Church of the Wayfarer at 4:00 o'clock. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Hugo Bedau, and the ceremony performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

The bridal costume was white satin, with a train, a becoming sweetheart neck and long sleeves, tapered and tight buttoned. A lace trimmed veil framed her face and fell softly to finger length and white roses and stephanotis were in her hands.

The maid of honor and attendant was Carol's sister, Renee, who wore aqua satin and carried pink carnations with aqua streamers.

Robert Mullnix was the groom's best man and the ushers were John Westover and Leroy Delape.

The garden flower bedecked home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell, the groom's parents, was the scene of the wedding reception that followed the ceremony.

Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Bedau, graduated from Carmel High School this June. The family came to Carmel from San Francisco about five years ago.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Bell, graduated from Carmel High School, spent three years in military service and now is attending Monterey Peninsula College. He has one sister, Mrs. John Westover.

The couple leaves for a short wedding trip this week end and on their return will make their temporary residence in Carmel. They plan to house hunt in Monterey in the fall in order to be nearer Monterey College.

Kippy Skips

With the sun out to stay, and Kippy Stuart away, watch those gardens over the coming week end. Kippy took to the high road on Tuesday to duck home town holiday hiatus and will be in Palo Alto, with Captain and Mrs. William Young Allen, U.S.N., until the last fourth of July visitor has had his say.

Del Monte Hosts

Representatives from San Francisco, Los Angeles and local newspapers as well as from national magazines were day-long guests of the Del Monte Properties Company on Tuesday, June 27. Luncheon was served in the Lodge's redecorated Tap Room, followed by a tour of the Del Monte Lodge's newly completed construction. An informal cocktail party and dinner was held at 6:30 in the Beach Club.

Stars On The Horizon

Two current visitors with names and faces familiar to a globe-encircling public are Joan Crawford and Greer Garson. Both visitors are vacationing at Del Monte Lodge.

Miss Garson, who is now known as Mrs. E. E. Fogelson, and her husband recently were feted at a cocktail party in their honor held by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Manley, III. Mr. and Mrs. Manley are the present tenants of Mrs. Fogelson's Pebble Beach home.

Man Child

Three year old Sharon Margaret Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Phelps, has new responsibilities. Her brother, a junior William Clifford, arrived home from the Peninsula Community Hospital this week, and is proving an engrossing charge. Mother of the young pair, the former Margaret Madrid, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Madrid of El Cerrito. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas Phelps are the baby's paternal grandparents. The Phelps have been Carmel residents for the past three years, and Mr. Phelps is now established in permanent business on the Peninsula. Mrs. Phelps sister, Mrs. V. E. Ruddle, is helping her little niece help her brother in adjusting himself to his new environment.

Benjamin, Third Arrives

Their first child and the third Benjamin Rudolph Eggeman, was born to Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Benjamin Eggeman in the Peninsula Community Hospital on June 20. The baby's parents have been stationed on the Peninsula since January and are hoping that this may be a long tour of duty. The baby's Mother, the former Jean Doisseau Warwick, stems originally from Norfolk, Virginia, and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Claiburn Warwick, is visiting her at present to help during the first home-from-hospital days. Mrs. Eggeman's father was the late Mr. Herbert C. Warwick. Lieutenant Commander Eggeman is the son of Mrs. Benjamin R. Eggeman, of Cleveland, Ohio, and the late Mr. Eggeman.

Hildebrands In Action

Mrs. Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand and her family, who scattered briefly for summer's initiation, now are reunited in their Carmel home. Laurel Dell was off for a few days' visit with her grandfather, Mr. George D. Nidever, in Campton, and the remaining Hildebrands took to the hills. Their scene change was spent at the family home in Santa Cruz Mountains.

On their return the Hildebrand Sisters, Carol and Laurel Dell, once more put the summer Puppet Show in action for a crowd of enthusiastic youngsters. This, a feature of Carmel school system's recreation program, is now in its fifth year of production.

Young Trouper

Carmel's Claudia, young Nancie Brown, who graduated from Carmel High School earlier this month, is off career-launching this summer. She is with the fairy tale stock company, the Looking Glass Theater, which spends six weeks touring the larger California cities. Nancie will complete her first two weeks engagement in Los Angeles this week end and returns home for respite before journeying northward with her group. Nancie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, will enter Stanford in the fall where she is already looking forward to her third year when she may become a drama major.

Music Teachers Organize

A meeting to organize a Music Teachers Association on the Monterey Peninsula is to be held today, June 30, at 8:00 p.m. in Harmony House, on Mission at Sixth. Once organized this association will form a branch of the California Music Teachers Association, which forms part of a national organization.

Mrs. Ralph Weston and Mrs. Irene Graham, both members of the State association, sponsor the movement and Mrs. Kathryn Lansdowne and Miss Lily Walker will serve as hostesses at the coming meeting. Mrs. Mark Byer, a board of directors member on the State association, will be present tonight, to assist with organizing details.

Organization's purpose is promotion of talent recitals, to award scholarships and offer services of benefit to all music teachers in the area. All local teachers are urged to attend the meeting.

Romance Afar

Of special interest to Colonel and Mrs. Joseph L. Wells is the recently announced engagement of Vickey Quirino, daughter of Philippine president, Elpidio Quirino to Luis M. Gonzales. Luis, a frequent visitor to the Wells Carmel home, was the college roommate of Mrs. Wells' son, Harvey Holden.

The youngest First Lady ever to have presided at Malacanan social affairs, 19 year old Miss Quirino also will be the first First Lady ever to say her vows within the walls of Malacanan.

Luis Gonzales is a graduate of De La Salle College and the University of California and currently is manager of the Gonzales family hacienda in Rosales, Pangasinan.

Solo Flight

Young Diane Thorne took her first long trip, her first air trip and her first solo trip all in one last week when she winged her way eastward for a visit with her sister, Mrs. John T. Goodwin, the former Sylvia Thorne, in Norfolk, Virginia.

Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thorne, who waved her on her way with trepidation, have no fear for Diane's return at summer's end. Her travel technique was mastered before Chicago, polished by Washington, and from Norfolk, Diane wonders what such excitement was about.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Shepard have left Carmel's summer seas and sun for mountain pastures. They are in Ojai Valley for their vacation.

Seaside Summer

House hosts for Carmel's summer season are Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand H. Colliard. Mrs. Robert Richard Bell, of Oklahoma City, is to be with the Colliards for the three month period.

Retired Officers Dinner

Retired Officers of the Monterey Peninsula are advised that the calendar circle around July 4 should be moved to July 11. Their regular monthly dinner has been postponed to the latter date because of holiday conflict.

Andrea Lee Barletta Is Here

Andrea Lee is the attractive name that Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Barletta have chosen for their first child, who was born in the Peninsula Community Hospital June 23. The baby's mother was the former Leona Schellhammer, daughter of Mr. Charles Schellhammer and the late Mrs. Schellhammer. Mr. Barletta is the son of Mrs. Marie Barletta, and has been in Business in Carmel for the past two years.

First Lady

The first little daughter to arrive in the Charles Wentz household is Dale Wallace Wentz, who was born June 25, in the Peninsula Community Hospital. Romantic New Orleans figures in small Dale's background as her mother was the former Rita Thibodeaux, of the delta city. Mrs. Wentz' mother, Mrs. Harvey Wallace was here to greet Dale on her arrival, and to oversee the activities of three year old Mitchell Allen Wentz during his mother's hospitalization. Mrs. Wentz' father is Mr. A. J. Thibodeaux of New Orleans. Mr. Wentz is son of Mr. and Mrs. Arth Wentz of Salem, Ohio.

Second Son

A Salinas scion's son who will grow up a Carmelite is Kent Woodall Hughes. Young Kent was born in the Peninsula Community Hospital on June 15, to Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Hughes. Mr. Hughes, who was born and brought up in Salinas, made a permanent move to Carmel about four years ago, when his business was established in Monterey. Mr. Hughes parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Charles Hughes, who also, in recent years, changed their permanent residence from Salinas to Carmel Woods.

Mrs. Hughes is an Arizonian by birth, and is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Woodall, of Phoenix. Her mother, Mrs. Woodall currently is making a Carmel visit to get acquainted with the new grandsons and became re-acquainted with her elder grandson, 14 month old David Stafford.

The Third Man

The Talcott Bates boy pair, David and Seth, became a trio on June 21. On that day Anthony Stewart Bates made his appearance at the Peninsula Community Hospital, and is now at home beginning to take his allotted share in trio activity. The boys are sons of Dr. and Mrs. Talcott Bates, who came to Carmel about three years ago from New York City. Dr. Bates formed his Peninsula attachment in Navy days during the war when he was a frequent visitor in the home of his local cousins, Dr. and Mrs. John Gratiot.

De-mobilization day for Dr. Bates was decision day, and he and his wife moved here shortly thereafter. Mrs. Bates is daughter of Mrs. M. Trevor Pardee of New York, and the late Mr. Pardee. Dr. Bates' parents are Mrs. Willard Travell and the late Herbert Roswell Bates, of New York City.

Visitors For Sun-days

Among the weather fortunates enjoying Carmel's first full-summer spate are Miss Maud S. Wheeler and Mrs. Ethel Tudbury of Berkeley. Miss Wheeler and Mrs. Tudbury are the guests of Miss Eva Belle Adams in her Casanova Street home, La Casa Contenta.

Bay Exchange

Miss Doris Schmiedell, a Carmelite of three years standing, turns her back on Peninsula summer lure. From this week end to the fall she will exchange locally well balanced sun-and-shade intermittencies for Marin County's unrelenting blaze.

Stanford In Summer

Reversing a more usual process, Mrs. Edward Octavius Sisson has rented her local home and is off to the Stanford campus for summer. Mrs. Sisson plans to be on collegiate territory until the end of August.

Long Timers Farewell

The many friends of long time residents Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Montmorency, recently were startled by moving news. Burning their local bridges behind them, Mr. and Mrs. Montmorency are moving to Santa Rosa with a "for keeps" feeling. Business interests are the move-motivating factor.

Double Celebration

Her birthday and her new Pebble Beach home's completion recently were simultaneously celebrated by Mrs. Alma McKeever. Mrs. McKeever entertained a large group for cocktails on the doubly festive occasion.

Fortier Fortunate

Carmelita Fortier, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fortier, disembarked in England last week and now is wandering on still farther foreign strands. With a large group of contemporary travelers from San Francisco, Carmelita departed these shores a few weeks ago for a protracted Continental tour.

Mary Agnes Fortier, now in her fifth nursing month at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco, made a Friday to Monday Carmel visit last week end, and will return for one day of holiday making next week.

BPW Brunch

The sun blazed with exceptional cooperation for the Business and Professional Women's last Sunday brunch. From 11 'till 1 the group assembled on the green grass carpet of Mrs. Christine Raynsford's beautifully situated patio in the Mesa and discussed the last year's group achievements, and projects for the year to come. Miss Ida Best was the capable brunch chairman and serving on her committee were: Mrs. Virginia English, Mrs. Thelma Stohr, Mrs. Minnie Coyle, Mrs. Janet Trinker, Mrs. Niki Groth and Mrs. Ida Moody.

Roof Exchange

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell and their small brood have a new home but familiar neighbors. Long and longing looks at the house across the way produced the irresistible impulse to make it their own. As of last week end the Gordon Campbells still will be found on Thirteenth and Santa Lucia but upon the greener side.

Overflow

Since Thursday of this week the John Ruster home rings with a hollow sound; since Sunday of this week the John Ruster home rang with all conceivable other sounds. The Ruster four day open house began with arrival of Mrs. Ruster's sister Mrs. Paul H. Marston and young son Bobby to educate the junior Rusters to house-guest hosting. Mr. Royden Vosburg, Mrs. Ruster's father, arrived the following day for his share of reunion and, in quick succession Mrs. Ruster's great aunt, Miss Etta McCrillis, appeared to overlook the family scene. By Thursday evening the group wended their separate ways homeward.

Clan Gathering

July's opening will find the Fenton Grigsby clan summer-established in their Robles del Rio home, and Independence Day doings will reunite a major share of the large family group. Mrs. Fenton Grigsby and her two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Leman and Mrs. Harry Lansdowne will risk the Valley road hazards Friday and open the Grigsby summer home. The forthcoming holidays will bring Mrs. Grigsby's daughter and son-in-law Commander and Mrs. F. M. Lansdowne and son Zachary down from San Francisco, and Mrs. Grigsby's niece, Mrs. Arthur Smiley. Mrs. Grigsby's son, Fenton William Grigsby will postpone his visit until later in the summer as he and his family currently are vacationing in Oregon.

It Was So Good Everybody Wants More Youth Follies

performance, and they were backed to a man by the infield. Ric Masten running hither and yon after the piano, and Legare McNeill dashing after his glass of water, kept a thread of fun weaving in and out and every single boy and girl of the 58 on the program deserves a separate credit line for performances that were often professional and always good.

The music, both vocal and instrumental hit a high note of sustained excellence, with promising young voices and finished pianists, winning hard earned and enthusiastic applause from the audience.

Fred Godwin, paterfamilias of the Center, was received with the warmth he richly deserves, and Bonnie Giles whose unsparing energy and love of young folks made it all possible, wears her two lovely brown orchids the children pitched in their pennies and bought for her, and says she will wear them the rest of her life.

Most pleased and grateful of anyone are the boys and girls themselves. It never entered their heads that the house would be packed, or that they were that good. In appreciation to the town they are now up at the Center in a body, making it ready for their snack bar, painting and scrubbing and scraping away with putty knives and looking forward to next year's Follies.

The Snack Bar and all the fixin's have been ordered from the Dorman Hotel Supply Company of San Francisco. There will be a gleaming 24 foot bar, 12 fine leather stools, 50 assorted comfortable chairs, 2 coke machines, a malt mixer and a grill and, in short, the whole works.

There were no expenses. The town turned to and gave. Lloyd Weer, master mind, tore his hair and skipped his suppers and mumbled something about working with 58 kids, and as usual had them toe-to-toe in line. Franklin Dixon expertly and generously played on the switchboard of the lighting system. Tom Brosnan, custodian at Sunset, cleared up the immense clutter and wouldn't take a penny. And backstage, with Bonnie and Nellie and the stage crews, everything was clockwork, and all that time and energy and heart freely given.

Jimmy Griffin, whose success with the Glee Club was an outstanding feature of the evening, has volunteered to keep up the good work and organize and direct a group of songsters for the Center, keeping them in rehearsal for the years to come.

The cast and stage crews and all the young people concerned, paid the full dollar for their own tickets and Bob Updike, sweating over furniture moving, said, "Boy, am I a dope. I pay a buck for the privilege of shoving the piano around," but refused to take his dollar back and relinquish his privilege.

And Fred Godwin, taking some of the group out to dinner following the show, sold fourteen dollars worth of tickets to innocent bystanders after the show was over.

"They came!" Bonnie exclaimed in amazement. "They didn't just throw their tickets in the waste basket. They all came! I can't get over it!"

VALLEY GALLERY SHOW

Its new pictures newly hung, the Carmel Valley Art Gallery throws wide its doors once more tomorrow morning, July 1, to welcome gallery habitués and exploring visitors. Among other artists whose pictures will brighten exhibition walls during July are: John O'Shea, Abel Warshawsky, Armin Hansen, Thomas McGlynn, Arthur Hill Gilbert, Leslie Emery, Frank Myers, Paul Whitman, George and Katherine Seideneck, Laura Maxwell, Harvey Williamson and Katherine Van Dyke.

Mrs. Goodfellow Returns

Returned from Santiago with full and enthusiastic data on her pair of first grandchildren, is Mrs. Arthur Goodfellow of Pebble Beach. Mrs. Goodfellow air traveled to the western hemisphere's southern reaches last month when advised of the twins' imminent arrival. Her daughter, Mrs. Frank R. M. Elton, the former Kay Goodfellow, has been living in Santiago since her marriage two years ago.

Legion Officer Installation

The American Legion Carmel Post 512 and American Legion Auxiliary Post 512 will combine, the evening of July 10, for the formal ceremony of annual officer installation. Dinner at 7:00 o'clock in Legion Hall, will precede the formalities which will be performed by the 40 and 8 Team, and, for the Auxiliary, by Thirteenth District President Mrs. Stephanie Kasaurang, from Palo Alto.

Outgoing Auxiliary president, Mrs. Bonnie Giles will surrender her place and hand on the symbols of office to newly elected president Mrs. Alice Askew. Other officers who assume their new positions will be: Mrs. Elizabeth Dufur, first vice president; Mrs. Claire Winslow, second vice president; Mrs. Charlotte Hart, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Rice, recording secretary; Mrs. Jane Chitwood, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Irene Jones, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Lois Johns, color bearer; Mrs. John Shirley, chaplain and Mrs. Alice Landers, historian.

Elected, and re-elected to office in the Legion are: James Kelsey, who succeeds himself as commander; Norman Winslow, first vice commander; William Ellis, second vice commander; Faunce Whitcomb, chaplain; William Jundson, historian; Richard Hendricks and Pete Johnston, sergeants at arms; Jack Laughlin, adjutant and Paul Tescher, finance officer. To serve on next year's executive committee are: Joseph Johnston, John Chitwood, George Knapp, Al Fry and General Eldridge Chapman.

Bishop Block Honored

The Right Reverend Karl Morgan Block, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of the Diocese of California was entertained by the Vestry of All Saints' Episcopal Church at a dinner in his honor held last night in Carmel Woman's Club.

During the combined dinner and Parish meeting Captain Archer M. R. Allen, building committee chairman, reported on the present status and progress of the new church building. The ground breaking service, and week by week construction progress were shown on color film by Colonel Thomas G. Tousey. Bishop Block was principal speaker at the meeting which was attended by over two hundred parishioners.

Vestry Committee chairman for the occasion was Mr. William O. Walker, and committee members were: Mr. Bruce J. Bacon, Major, General E. G. Chapman and Mr. Frank Putnam. Serving as hosts and hostesses at the various tables were: Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Lehmann, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hampton Hoge, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nielsen, Colonel and Mrs. Thomas G. Tousey, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam, Admiral and Mrs. A. C. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. William O. Walker. The Misses Edith and Sigrid Bohm and Mrs. Emmy Little were in charge of coffee.

Bay Area Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox head for city lights when holiday mood and hour approaches. Last week end found them in San Francisco for a round of shopping, restaurant exploring and an exciting evening at Death of a Salesman. On the homeward route they paused for dinner and a visit with the "Apple" Henleys, in their Los Altos establishment.

Mrs. Knox Returns

A Carmel wanderer has returned, ostensibly for a visit but her friends are hoping to detect a certain fixity of purpose in her eye. Mrs. Anne Knox, longtime Carmelite, left the vicinity about a year and a half ago to take up residence with her sister, Miss Mary Slocum, in Genesee, Pennsylvania. This is her first return visit to Carmel since her departure.

Otrich Houseguests

Down from Oakland and proving the truth of Carmel's wide-flung summer weather reports are Mrs. R. H. Collins and her daughter Nancy Page. During their visit they are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sumral Otrich, proprietors of Candles of Carmel. Mr. Collins, who is with the Airmotive Company in Oakland, will join his family later in the week.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

A lesson-Sermon will be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 2, on the subject "God," with the Golden Text taken from Psalms: "Exalt the Lord our God, and worship at his holy hill; for the Lord our God is holy" (99:9).

Included in the citations comprising the sermon, chosen from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be the following:

Ephesians: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; One Lord, one faith, one baptism, One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all" (4:4-6).

Science and Health: "One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'; annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry; whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed" (p. 340).

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Maybe This'll Wake Us Up!

Because a couple of thoughtless drivers threw a newspaper out of their car yesterday, Miss Gilbert, our school principal, nearly had a bad accident.

She was following them on the highway and the paper flattened over her windshield, so she couldn't see. In a minute her little coupe was across the line—right in the path of an oncoming trailer-truck. It missed ... but only just!

The parties were recognized and soon as I heard about it I ran over to Sheriff Harper—demanded they be brought up on charges. But Harper says: "Hold on, Joe. Let's talk this out, over supper and a glass of beer at Andy's."

He pointed out that those men aren't criminals. Just careless, like a lot of us seem to be getting these days, judging from the trash you see along roadsides. From where I sit, this near accident may be the lesson we need to make us stop littering our roads—and start showing a little tolerant consideration for our neighbors!

Three Cities Go Into Huddle Over Garbage At Dinner

Officials of the three Peninsula cities met for dinner at Cerrito's last night to discuss the garbage disposal problem. It is felt that the present dump in Seaside, which the cities use on a rental basis, will soon run out of space and another site must be found.

Idea in the minds of the city councils is the purchase of a site by the three cities for a community dump. Considerable difficulty faces the cities in that suitable sites are hard to find and prop-
